Dear Judith Peterson:

As recent public reports have shown, sexually transmitted diseases in Monterey County have been a problem and are substantially increasing. Although there are effective programs, improvement is needed within Monterey County. Therefore, please take the time to read this proposal in order to increasing knowledge and awareness of Sexually Transmitted Diseases.

Because young adults within the county have been the most exposed to STDs, there is a need of a program that emphasizes the seriousness of having an STD, and what the consequences are if not treated. Salinas High School in Monterey County is the most appropriate to address this issue given that the school already addresses some areas of STD through sex education course.

Attached is a report outlining information about STDs among young adults in Monterey County and a discussion considerable solution that have been developed to attempt to decrease the spike of STDs.

Accordingly, your expertise and time is greatly needed to help create a detailed program for young adults about STDs. By implementing a detailed program that includes information about health care insurance, education and advertisement the STDs spike will decrease. This program can then be used in public schools and the community in Monterey County.

Sincerely,

Montano Julia
